WHAT IS GREEN BUILDING ANYWAY?

“Green building” refers to the the design, construction, and operations of buildings that are environmentally responsible, profitable, and healthy places to live and work. It’s a practice that is transforming the industry. Take the first step toward getting involved with one of USGBC’s introductory workshops. You’ll learn the benefits of green building, the basics of the LEED® Rating System, and how you can leverage green building throughout your business.

TAKE YOUR TEAM TO THE NEXT LEVEL

with USGBC educational programs, events, and resources. We can help your employees hone their skills in specific green practice areas, or upgrade their general knowledge of green building's benefits and the LEED Rating System. We also offer private workshops for USGBC members, so you can tailor to meet your organization's needs. Our programs include:

LEED workshops & online courses

ADVANCE YOUR KNOWLEDGE AND YOUR CAREER

by staying at the forefront of industry practice. Green building knowledge is a must for today's professionals, as any of the more than 30,000 people who have earned the LEED Accredited Professional credential from USGBC can attest. LEED APs are recognized experts in integrated design and the LEED certification process — skills in high demand by employers and clients in every sector of the industry. The LEED Professional Accreditation program also helps you stay current with the latest practices, trends, and technologies, so you can be a part of driving the industry forward.

A DIVERSE INDUSTRY HAS DIVERSE NEEDS

and USGBC's Education Provider program is designed to meet them. USGBC has developed this comprehensive online catalog to help you connect to top-quality green building education in a variety of disciplines, for beginners and experts alike. Every provider is thoroughly reviewed by USGBC, so you can be sure you're getting the highest-quality, most current programs from proven green building leaders.

IF YOU WANT TO MAKE GREEN BUILDING

“I’VE BEEN HELPING CLIENTS RANGING FROM THE GSA TO THE SIDWELL FRIENDS SCHOOL ACHIEVE THEIR GOALS — ENVIRONMENTAL AND ECONOMIC — FOR MORE THAN 15 YEARS. THESE DAYS, THAT MEANS LEED, WHICH IS WHY I EARNED LEED PROFESSIONAL ACCREDITATION.”

LEARNING YOUR WAY

Green building education comes in a variety of formats. Choose what works best for you:

CLASSROOM: USGBC offers full- and half-day programs on the LEED Rating System and more than a dozen specific technical and business topics. Classes are offered at locations nationwide and are taught by USGBC's expert faculty. USGBC members can also schedule private workshops right in their office.

ONLINE: Webinars and Web-based courses on a variety of subjects bring education right to your desktop.

PUBLICATIONS & RESEARCH: LEED Reference Guides are sustainable design guides and comprehensive resources for using the LEED Rating System and preparing for the LEED Accredited Professional exam. Industry and USGBC research keeps you up-to-date and helps you educate your colleagues and clients.

GREENBUILD: USGBC's annual conference and expo is the industry's premiere education and networking opportunity. Greenbuild features more than 160 educational sessions and LEED workshops; renowned speakers; green building tours; and the nation's largest exhibit hall showcasing leading-edge products and services. Other USGBC events and programs, such as the CEO Roundtable, Federal Summit, Emerging Green Builders, and special resources for K-12 and higher education, help you get engaged and stay involved.
